

Meet Jane.

Jane and her boyfriend are cooking a fancy brunch.

She's about to document this historical event.

Jane launches Life Capture on her phone and takes a photo.

Life Capture auto tags her boyfriend since he's on the network and on Jane's tag list.

Jane uploads the photo to her Life Book.

Jane adds a voice caption to the entry by selecting the microphone icon on the dock panel. It automatically transcribes voice into text.

She shares the entry with her boyfriend.

Later that day, Jane logs onto Life Capture on her laptop.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL <http://www.lifecapture.com/jane>. The navigation menu includes LIFE CAPTURE, EXPLORE, FRIENDS, CAPTURE, and SETTINGS. A search bar is located on the right. The main content area displays a timeline for Sunday, July 30, 2011, with three entries: a video of a person playing a ukulele at 9 AM, a photo of a person preparing food at 12 PM, and a photo of a person organizing a shelf at 4 PM. A sidebar on the right shows 'Messages from Hanna' and 'Content Sources' with a donut chart. Below the main log, there is a section 'Also on that day:' featuring news snippets about a marathon, an opera singer, and an oil spill. At the bottom, it indicates the user's location as Lower Manhattan and the Upper East Side, and shows a music player for 'Lady Gaga - Judas'.

Life Capture

http://www.lifecapture.com/jane

LIFE CAPTURE EXPLORE FRIENDS CAPTURE SETTINGS

2011

Sunday July 30, 2011 Here's what happened: edit

9 AM: wrote a song on the uke, "Lola Lula Ley"

12 PM: Sunday brunch: soft shell crab BLT sandwiches.

4 PM: finally organized my shelf and bought a plant.

2 Messages from Hanna

Content Sources

- Twitter
- iPhone
- Facebook
- Gmail
- "Other"

Also on that day:

Tanya ran her first NYC marathon and finished top 20!

Yasmine won the Berlin Young Opera Singer competition

NYTimes: Oil spill off of the Gulf Coast.

You were in Lower Manhattan and the Upper East Side

★ Lady Gaga - Judas

